Testimonial

"I've known about Direct Connect in general back when they originally built that out as a potential with AWS and then with Microsoft, but it was expensive. Even though it was a very attractive option, it wasn't something I could really justify spending money on. When I talked with Semaphore, and found out how and where it all happens, and that Semaphore can offer it extremely reliably and at a very low cost, it was a no brainer."
